

EnSci 14.1

Goal: Review population unit (jeopardy)

Students should be able to:

- Describe how human populations were for most of human history
- Contrast with the events of recent history
- Compare and contrast birth and death rates now and in the past
- Identify the most populated countries in the world
- How is the impact a person has greater based on actions?
- Case study: China's one child policy
- Case study: slowing population rates in Europe and Japan
- Case study: Overpopulation in Africa

HW: Study for test

EnSci 14.3

Test: Human population